Why are we here?

Summer Seminar at Camp Caravan

June 24–July 3, 2016

Royalston, Massachusetts, USA

*When we begin to question, especially ourselves, we challenge the prison of comfort and habit that keeps us asleep, that keeps us from seeing the predicament we are in.
Bring questions, questions that arise from your search.*

Who sends the mind to wander afar?
Who first drives life to start on its journey?
Who impels us to utter these words? Upanishads

Be patient toward all that is unsolved in your heart and try to love the questions themselves, like locked rooms and like books that are now written in a very foreign tongue. Do not now seek the answers, which cannot be given you because you would not be able to live them. And the point is, to live everything. Live the questions now. Perhaps you will then gradually, without noticing it, live along some distant day into the answer. Rilke

I cannot stop asking. If I could taste one sip of an answer, I could break out of this prison for drunks. Rumi
